SBERBANK: 09/2024 - 03/2026

- Participated in developing the user interface of a new Sberbank product from scratch, later scaled to more than 200,000 users.
- Designed the project architecture using FSD, improving code readability and maintainability.
- Developed a reusable table component with filtering, drag-and-drop columns, resizable width, infinite loading, user notes and a 1:1 dialog with a manager.
- Integrated frontend with backend through REST API; during design discussions with designers, identified technical constraints and proposed alternative UX solutions, which helped avoid rework after development started.
- Adapted the interface for mobile, tablet and desktop versions with web accessibility (a11y) support.
- Optimized application rendering through component memoization.
